

As-Garde Machine and Mecatronics Inc.- Enterprise Series

Computers & Communication - machinery, equipment & technology

Intro - Enterprise Super workstation - What you don't like and are not getting...

- no proprietary software or firmware blobs
- no more obsolete CPUs, enforced by criminal control freak maniacs
- no CPUs with signed firmware that "call home" (AMD) to keep operational (Intel)...or else
- no more microcoding, no Intel Management Engine - or anything remotely like that...
- no more built in key logging, memory theft, expropriation or other annoying criminal activities
- no more factory direct "Spy n Crime" enabled
- no more exfiltration or remote memory wipe
- no more unauthorized listening and looking at everything and anything
- no more key word activation or sound activation on your computer
- no secret files on your drive or memory resources that copy and forward your stuff
- no compromised proprietary communication devices that are easily hacked and programmed
